AT THE CHURCHES

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

C. M. Coaleon, Minister

What do you think of the state of the modern church? Have you been taken in too by the pessimistic prophecies of the doom of the church by its enemies—and sometimes by its friends? Is church growing in numbers, or decreasing? Are people ignoring the church and thinking of it only as an outgrown and needless institution? These queries and others like them must be faced. There's nothing to be gained by dismissing them and shutting our eyes to their implications.

You may be surprised to learn that the church in America gained in membership last year more rapidly than the country gained in population. Nearly a million people joined the church in America during the last twelve months. The sceptic may discount members all he likes but an army of almost a million people is by no means to be ignored.

If you have not thought about it lately you may also be astonished to know the influence the church is wielding in the realm of social ideals today. There is gradually growing up a formidable power in opposition to social injustice in the nations and governments of the world, and this power is being built by the idealism and practical leadership of the leaders of a militant modern church. There is not simply a place where people meet and shout and otherwise express meaningless emotion, but a place where truth is disseminated and magnificent resolves are born which bode ill for the plans of those who are selfishly trying to make our world selfish and deadly. "Upon this rock I will build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

Further, the modern church is finding its tongue and displaying new resources of courage as its leaders are not only speaking to convictions but are carrying them into effect. But more of this Sunday morning at the First Baptist Church. Suffice it to say here that no one need have any apology for standing by the modern church. The modern church still yields the power of a mighty army, marching as to war.

Then on Sunday evening let's go with Jesus back to his home town and see what happens there.

METHODIST CHURCH

11:30 a. m. Morning worship and preaching by the pastor, Thorne. The interest Jesus manifested in the laboring people of His day was recapitulated, for Mark in his gospel tells us that the common people heard him gladly. His foster father was a carpenter and doubtless he labored at the bench. Jesus related many fascinating stories about people who worked. He told about the farmer who sowed seeds in his field, the laborers who were hired in the market place, the shepherd who kept his sheep, the merchant who bought the pearls, the builder who was unable to finish his house. His interest in and concern for those who toiled today is no less than in that day.

It is fitting that on the Sabbath preceding Labor Day we, in the churches should seek to do honor to men who toil. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be a part of this service.

8 p. m. Evening worship and preaching again by the pastor, Thorne. We belong to a giving universe. God was the first and best giver. It was the giving of His own Son which made a Calvary. He gave because He loved. That should be the motive which prompts us to be givers. Yes, we should give of our material substance. But don't you pity the person who has nothing bigger and better than that to give?

The annals of history are luminous with stories of the great men who made themselves immortal by giving. Abraham who gave his son as an offering to God. Mary bringing her box of precious ointment to anoint the body of Jesus. The good Samaritan giving his time and service to help a wounded man. Melvin Cox dying on the mission field crying, "If I had a thousand lives Africa could have them all."

10:15 a. m. The Church School meets. Come and bring your children to a modernly equipped school for worship and study. Please note that all evening services have been moved to eight o'clock.

From the Land of Cherry Blossoms Downie Bros. Circus Brings the Famous Eno Troupe

Direct from the Orient, the Great Eno Japanese Troupe will present their renowned Rialty Act. Downie Bros. Circus.

From City Hall comes the information that Fred Kilgore, contracting agent of the Sparks managed Downie Brothers Circus, is in our city and has been granted a license to exhibit afternoon and night, Thursday, Sept. 23. This should be good news to the circus lovers in this community, for no better known circus travels United States and Canada than the one offered by Charles Sparks. Always a good show, always a clean show, always just a little better than the other one, is Charlie Sparks motto, and this standard he has held up for over 47 years.

Arrangements have already started to ask a half holiday for the school children in the county. Before another week has passed gay colored posters and window lithographs will remind you of the coming of one season offering — "Bigger, Better of the world's greatest amusement and grander than ever."

TEACHERS MEETING ANNOUNCED FOR THURSDAY, SEPT. 9, TO MAKE PLANS FOR 1937-38 TERM. BOOKS WILL BE FURNISHED FREE.

County School Superintendent H. P. Womack, yesterday announced that there will be a teachers meeting held at the court house on Thursday, September 9 at 2:30 p. m. Mr. Womack urges all teachers to be present as there will be matters of importance to be discussed in mapping out a program for the approaching term. The opening date for the Bulloch county schools, both Junior and Senior, has been set for Friday, September 10. All patrons are urged, if possible, to have their children in school on the opening date. This is important, according to Superintendent Womack, because the trucks will begin transporting high school students at that time to the various senior high schools.

DEDICATED TO THE PROGRESS OF STATESBORO AND BULLOCH COUNTY

VOLUME 1.

STATESBORO, GEORGIA, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1937

NUMBER 25

TEACHERS COLLEGE TO HAVE FOURTEEN NEW FACULTY MEMBERS

FALL TERM TO OPEN FRIDAY, SEPT. 17. UPPER CLASSMEN WILL REGISTER SEPTEMBER 21. CLASSES WILL BEGIN ON SEPTEMBER 22.

Fourteen new names appear on the 1937-38 faculty list at the South Georgia Teachers College. The fall term will open at the college next Friday with a five orientation period for freshmen. Upperclassmen will register September 21.

Most of the newcomers this fall on the faculty are additions. Miss Kate Houx, M. A. Columbia University, will be a visiting professor in charge of the Rosenwald Scholarship students. C. B. Kestler of Concord, N. C., will relieve Fielding Russell, who has been granted a year's leave of absence to work on his doctorate at Georgia Washington University. Miss Susie Hammock of Edison will replace Miss Louise McGilvey as director of physical education for girls.

The new members who will join the faculty are: Helen Brown of Sylvester, assistant director of the dining hall; Miss Queen Elizabeth Collins of Cobbtown, assistant to the bursar; Miss Ruth McPherson Doty, M. A. Peabody, supervising teachers in Laboratory School; Miss Elizabeth Edmond of Savannah, assistant Dean of Women; Mrs. Marjorie Guardia of Eatonton, assistant professor of English; Miss Hattie Maude McElven of Brooklet, assistant librarian; W. B. Moye, formerly of Middle Georgia College, mathematics; Ronald J. Nell, M. A. State University of Iowa, head of music department; Allen E. Shearer of Lylerly, Georgia, associate professor of Education; Mark Scully of Charleston, Missouri, laboratory school; Miss Lena Nell Smithson, M. A. Peabody, instructor in home economics.

Freshman week will begin at the college on Friday with a full program for the first year students until they register on Monday following. Upperclassmen will register Tuesday and classes will begin Wednesday, September 22.

Approximately 200 rooms have been reserved for freshmen along with 150 other reservations, which indicate the largest regular term enrollment in the history of the college.

Supervising Wollett announced that 412 students were registered in the elementary grades and 210 in the high school. Mr. Wollett stated that more parents attended the opening exercises at both places this year than have attended in many years.

Following the serious illness which overtook him several years ago, while pastor here, Dr. Granade and Mrs. Granade moved to Atlanta, where they have made their home. He was a member of the Druid Hill Baptist Church and a Mason.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, Lanier Granade, who is connected with the Federal Government at Fort McPherson, and Dr. Edwin Granade, an officer in the Army, attached to Fort Oglethorpe, near Chattahoochee.

Members of the Atlanta Baptist Minister's Conference and the board of deacons of the Druid Hill Baptist Church formed an honorary escort at the funeral.

Dr. W. T. Granade Claimed By Death

LEADING GEORGIA BAPTIST MINISTER HAD BEEN ILL FOR SEVERAL YEARS. STRICKEN ILL WHILE IN STATESBORO SEVERAL YEARS AGO.

Dr. William T. Granade, 60, widely known Georgia Baptist minister, died at his home, 582 Angier Springs Road, N. E., Atlanta early last Friday morning following an illness of several years. His funeral was held Saturday afternoon at Spring Hill at 2 o'clock, with burial following at Conyers, the service being conducted by Dr. Louis D. Newton, Dr. R. B. Ragdale, of Macon, and Dr. J. C. Wilkinson of Athens.

Dr. Granade held pastorates at Statesboro, where he was stricken ill; Eatonton, Savannah, Monticello, Stone Mountain, Columbus and Phoenix City, Ala. He was ordained to the ministry at historic Rockdale Baptist Church, in Rockdale county, the neighborhood in which he was born, August 24, 1877.

He was an outstanding leader in the Baptist denomination, having served for many years as a member of the executive committee of the Georgia Baptist Convention, chairman of the committee directing the educational institutions of the convention, member of the board of directors of the Christian Index, moderator of several district annual conferences and vice president of the State Convention. A gifted writer, Dr. Granade's prose and poetic contributions were frequently published in the Christian Index and in the newspapers of the communities in which he lived.

Following the serious illness which overtook him several years ago, while pastor here, Dr. Granade and Mrs. Granade moved to Atlanta, where they have made their home. He was a member of the Druid Hill Baptist Church and a Mason.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, Lanier Granade, who is connected with the Federal Government at Fort McPherson, and Dr. Edwin Granade, an officer in the Army, attached to Fort Oglethorpe, near Chattahoochee.

COTTON PICKER ALSO PICKER OF OTHER GOODS CHASED BY OFFICERS

CAUGHT STEALING CLOTHES AND GROCERIES AFTER SEVERAL HOURS CHASE.

Chasing a colored man in the Lee-field section Monday, who seemingly did not wish to be arrested, proved to be more exciting than the best fox hunts held in this section.

According to the story of those who participated in the hunt, one Will Moore, a Savannah negro, came to Bulloch county to pick cotton. He picked not only cotton, but clothes, groceries and other goods from another colored man of that community. An arresting officer located Moore in a hush, but he jumped out of a window and ran. The county dogs were brought in to the chase and for several hours, men and dogs went over ponds, fields, and woodlands, trailing the fast stepping cotton picker. At times the tracks showed the fleeing man wore shoes and again he was barefooted. According to those who took part in the case, he did some fancy backtracking and for a while evaded the dogs. Finally the dogs caught their man and he was brought to the county jail.

Operators of Slot Machines Fined By Judge Cowart Here

TOTAL FINES AMOUNT TO $300; SEVERAL MACHINES BROUGHT IN FROM BROOKLET SECTION. FINES PAID IN SMALL CHANGE

A sack full of nickels, dimes and quarters paid a fine for operating a slot machine in Bulloch county here Wednesday. The sack of money paid for a $300 fine imposed by Judge Leroy Cowart.

Fred Kramer and J. Mullenax, owners of the machines entered a plea of guilty before Judge Cowart in three cases. The total fine was $300.00. Last week county officers brought in several slot machines from the Brooklet section.

It was reported here that the City of Brooklet issued licenses for the operation of slot machines. Recent Grand Jurors in Bulloch county, however, have passed resolutions calling upon the officers to enforce the state law in regards to the operation of slot machines, and officers brought in the machines.

Judge Cowart had a busy time counting out one of the fines, which filled a money sack. Though the machines were being held at the county jail had some money in them, it was not disclosed whether there was enough silver to pay the fines.

SEPTEMBER TERM CITY COURT CONVENES HERE MONDAY HEAVY DOCKET

The September term of the City Court of Statesboro will convene here Monday morning with Judge Leroy Cowart presiding. Over forty criminal cases appear on the docket. Some fifteen to twenty cases from the August and July terms of City Court have been carried over to the present session. The docket shows 25 new September cases. Solicitor B. H. Ramsey stated that he did not know how many cases would be given over to the trial of criminal cases, but that the docket was heavy.

On the September docket there are five cases of assault with a dangerous weapon, and 3 old cases of assault and battery from other months. Other cases which have been placed on the docket are for wife beating, larceny, possessing liquor, driving under the influence of liquor, etc.

The third Monday in this month the July recessed term of Bulloch Superior Court will convene, at which time there will be no Grand Jury, but a traverse jury will be summoned for a large number of criminal matters that are pending.

The local Army Recruiting office, in charge of Staff Sergeant, Sam Lafave, Dem. R. S., has been transferred back to Savannah, Georgia Post Office building, at Room 202.

Staff Sergeant Lafave states that while he was in Statesboro he enlisted twenty-five men during the month of June. Of this number 24 enlisted for service in the Panama Canal Zone. Sargeant Lafave stated that any well qualified young man may enlist by going to Savannah where the army recruiting office is permanently located.

Funeral Services For Ernest Stewart

SHOT AND KILLED HIMSELF, ACCORDING TO CORONERS JURY; BURIED AT PORTAL.

Ernest Stewart, 19 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy G. Stewart of the Port Community, shot and killed himself near his home Monday night, according to a coroners jury. Funeral services were held for young Stewart Wednesday morning at eleven o'clock from the Port Baptist Church. Interment was in the Port Baptist cemetery.

According to statements made by members of the faculty, Ernest was living with a brother. When he did not come home Monday night a search was begun. His body was found on a side road about a mile and a quarter from the home of his parents. A shotgun was found by his side. He was shot one time, just below the heart. A coroners inquest was held Tuesday morning and the verdict was that Stewart came to his death from self inflicted gun shot wounds.

The young man worked on the farm Monday. He left no messages and the only cause advanced for his despondency was worry over a love affair.

It was also reported that Stewart told a friend Monday evening, while they were riding in a buggy, that the ride would be the last they would ever take together. After the friend left, Stewart drove down a road, hitched his mule securely to a tree, walked to the road and shot himself.

Besides his parents, the young man is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Lila Johnson, Mrs. Maude Kirkland, and Mrs. Lizzie Miller; six brothers, John, Gene, George, Ethel, J. C., and Penny Stewart, all of Bulloch county.

MULDOWN, CORN DODGER, CURTAIN

With the publishing of the recipe for Muldown and the appearance of the editorial entitled, "Muldown and Corn Dodger" in Monday's Atlanta Journal, we ring down the curtain on the controversy which started innocently with an argument between two of Bulloch county's most famous brewers of that famous Ogeechee delicacy, Muldown.

To borrow a paragraph from the Journal's editorial: "Just as a fusillade of lightning athwart a southern sky on a summer's eve may shake the earth with the roar of celestial artillery and affright the timid, but leave the air cleaner, purer, sweeter, so has this debate with all its claims, its rivalries, its contentions and its mysteries, come to a happy ending."

It all began, you remember, with our publishing the argument between Judge P. H. Preston, Sr., and Colonel Leon S. Tomlinson as to which was the better muldown. Colonel Tomlinson claimed the title and Judge Preston challenged him. The Colonel accepted the challenge and they met in a bitter contest on that never-to-be-forgotten-gulley-washer-night. Both contestants did their proudest, and the battle was declared a tie, with all demanding a second competition. The contest attracted wide attention, with the Atlanta Journal worrying over never having heard of our Ogeechee catfish delicacy and later wondering over the mystery which seemed to enshroud the recipe, while the contestants refused to reveal, it became suspicious of the whole thing. First because no one seemed to know how to spell the name. It was variously spelled "muldown," "mauldown," "mouldawn." We knew how to pronounce it because we had been knowing about it since Hester was a pup. Why it is almost a part of Bulloch county and the Ogeechee River.

And when the contestants refused to bring light their recipe . . . well, it looked bad especially when Mr. Henry T. McIntosh, of the Albany Herald, frankly and proudly published his recipe for Flint River catfish chowder. That recipe is what turned the trick.

Colonel Tomlinson could not let the public mistake that recipe as being the one for "Muldown." He furnished The Herald and the Atlanta Journal with his recipe for muldown. Again borrowing a paragraph from the Journal: "It was a prose poem, as provocative as the dimpled smile of a sweetheart. It was published on the editorial page, (of the Journal) and already has been clipped and pasted into thousand scrapbooks. Without doubt it will result in the decimation of Ogeechee River catfish, the main and the priceless ingredient."

"The good that has come? Well, agreement has been reached as to how to spell it, how to pronounce it, how to cook it, how to eat it. A recipe that may be tied but not surpassed is now in the public domain. And Colonel Tomlinson has added a thought and a phrase to the English literature, to-wit: 'A corn dodger is as essential to muldown as old lace is to lavender.'"

By Your Roaming Reporter

HOME . . . Home again . . . after all these years of wandering and gallivanting about amongst the beauties and wonders of a rugged world it does seem grand again just to get back to the old fire, drink water from the well . . . somewhere our gourd is sweeter than the ones they use at the Grove Park Inn . . . climb into the old shuck mattress and eat a slab of good Bulloch bacon, dunking corn pone in black potlicker, made from Ira Perkins Purple Hull Java peas. Just why no country in the world can grow peas like Bulloch County we've never understood. . . . maybe it's the climate, or the fertilizer . . . and by the way along about next spring we're going to let you in on a secret about what kind of fertilizer makes the best peas, and the best cotton and in fact the best of everything. No kidding! "Just give me a home, where the buffalo roam . . . et cetera" always brings me to tears, or maybe tears to me. Anyway I can warm up a great big cry when anyone begins to get sentimental about home. It is a perfectly GRAND place, but still I've got to take back one big typographical error that slipped last week. Somewhere down near the bottom of the article when my mind was going goozy, the printer (or maybe it was Leodel) caused it to read that "I love everybody" . . . but that's a mistake. I hadn't read the mail that had accumulated since I wrote A W & L. No wonder Horace had it hid under the counter! I of all the insulting men it was that bunch of letters! I! Bills, duns, appeals for money called to be due letters from the "Be Kind to Creditors Club" and goodness knows what all. Just take a tip from me and don't ever go on a vacation. Look! Everybody a fellow once just gets hot and huffy and starts something intended to be embarrassing. Just a sample . . . Sam Lewis wants the money for fixing the old automobile we did our roaming in . . . McAllister wants the note paid at the bank . . . Lowell Mallard wants county tax . . . Renfro wants his share of the Statesboro Paving Commission . . . the Paving assessment paid . . . Able wants pay for his old gas . . . the church treasurer wants us to pay what we promised the preacher . . . and Heaven knows what else! I! and just this warning to you bullies who'd take advantage of a man a long way from home. I've instructed my attorney, the Hon. Jack Murphy to enter suit against the whole bunch of you, under the section of the code where it says something about not hitting a feller when he's wearing glasses, or when he's not present to defend himself . . . and so on. Jack says they are all guilty of manslaughter, or was it habeas corpus?

And we've got another score to settle, now that we're back and have begun hearing all that this lousy bunch have said about us. Just today the best friend we have told us that a feller . . . he didn't say who it was, but it was either Charlie Oliff, Marvin Pittman or Frank Simmons, we'll bet a last year's straw hat . . . said that what put us in two hospitals already this year was a serious case of "High blonde pressure" . . . imagine it! And besides what will we tell the old "ball and chain" if that story gets around? We haven't got any bank account to hire lovely ladies to take a trip somewhere else, like they do in Switzerland. We can't give 'em diamond rings or Cadillacs. We've just got to stand up and take it on the chin and talk sweet to the little lovey-dovey who bakes our biscuits. Just you go to the court house in October when big court sets and you're going to hear more of this. Jack, get out your law books and find out what we can do to folks who act rude! I! I!

And, brother, it is all a mistake about loving "everybody". Truth is we had just got our eyes on the lady with those gorgeous blue eyes and ruby lips, and we were in sort of a humor, so in our exuberance we took in too much territory. We'll admit having a high regard for a lot of folks . . . especially the opposite sex . . . but there's been too much floundering about our chaw-RACER while we were gone.

And that goes for you too, John Everett, telling that feller we didn't have "the mental capacity of a jaybird". As Franklin said to John L. that time: "Phoody to you, and you, and you!" I! I!

While we were cooling off our highblood pressure in them that mountains the room mate paid our admission to see and hear the well-known and greatly beloved Dorothy F. C. Byerly, of the Bureau of Animal Industry. This loss can be anything worth while costs something. Let's discuss this further together Sunday a. m. at 11:30.

AT THE CHURCHES

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

C. M. COALSON, Pastor
I am convinced that no one will gainsay the statement that Jesus' vice that any one should count the cost of his conduct—was a wise suggestion. No matter in what field of endeavor you find yourself in, this is the only sensible course.

Two courses are open to this church, for instance, and we must choose between them. There is the course of least effort which we may lazily choose, if we wish. That is, we can go along with our make-shift building and equipment for teaching the Bible to our youth. What is the cost of that course? Here are some of the costs: discouraged teachers with consequent poor teaching; dropping out of students because of discomfort in the classrooms; loss of respect for the church in comparison with the excellent building and equipment of schools, amusement houses, and mercantile establishments; and finally the drifting of our youth away from religion and the church to face life with little or no fortification for life's ordeals. Are we ready to pay that tragic cost?

For a moment, look at the other course open to this church. It is the course of building and equipping adequately for taking care of the one thousand people in this town who are adherents of our faith. And what is the cost of that course? Some money, yes. We have followed the scriptural injunction to count the cost for a long time now—several years—and we know what the cost will be. But we are well able to do the whole thing today. Some sacrifice, will be necessary, but remember that anything worth while costs something.

Let's discuss this further together Sunday a. m. at 11:30.

LETTERS TO EDITOR—

To the Editor:

After the fine success of the Boomer Club in Tifton, Georgia, I am of the opinion that we people of Statesboro need such an organization to impress on the management of our theatres that their long previews and advertisements are tiresome and a big waste of their paid time. If you are interested in helping me to do advertisements and week in advance previews, please place your name on a postcard and address it to Z. care of Box 179, Statesboro, Ga., after the receipt of which I will get in touch with you.

Z. Statesboro, Georgia.

FARM BRIEFS

By WHITNEY THARIN

Uncle Jim Says

Farming "up and down" the slope causes damaging water runoff, gully, and loss of fertile top soil. Georgia farmers know how to remedy this.

Extension Editor

Georgia farmers are expected to pay more attention to harvesting grass and legume seed this year than ever before because of the small carry-over and the fact that the Agricultural Conservation Program has greatly increased the demand for seed of legumes, grasses, and green-manure crops. In general, seed that has been grown locally for a period of years is likely to be well adapted to the soil and the climate, and, if properly harvested, stored and cleaned, may be expected to give excellent results on Georgia farms.

Purchase of 31,002 acres of land in the Chattahoochee, Georgia, National Forest Purchase unit at a total cost of $107,450.50 has been approved by the National Forest Reservation Commission.

Poultrymen and hatcherymen lose approximately 40 million dollars a year because about one-third of their hatching eggs never hatch, estimates F. C. Byerly, of the Bureau of Animal Industry. This loss can be cut down by giving hens plenty of sunshine and green feed and by doing breed-improvement work.

This might help Georgia farmers figure out when they will get their 1937 AAA checks. The first checks to farmers who earn ed payments under the 1937 Agricultural Conservation program were mailed August 24 to 16 farmers in Kent and Washington counties, Rhode Island. The 16 checks totaled $408.06. Last year, the first AAA checks went out October 22. The peak of the 1936 payments was reached last March. In view of the earlier start made this year, AAA officials expect that the heavy 1937 payments will be made in January and February.

Georgia farmers didn't get much of it because this is not an important commercial wheat-growing state but the 740 million dollars income from farm marketings in July, with seasonal changes taken into account, was the highest for any month since May 1929. The Bureau of Agricultural Economics, which keeps up with things like this, said the increased income in July was due to the "unusually large sales of grain, particularly wheat." Income from most other crops made about the usual season changes from June to July, whereas income from livestock and livestock products decreased more than usual for this time of the year because of the unusually light marketing of hogs and cattle.

Twenty-two states, including Georgia, have passed statutes providing for the creation of local soil conservation districts since legislation of this type was recommended by President Roosevelt in a letter to the governors of the several states last February. In the opinion of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, the creation of soil conservation districts in the states, with legal power to make land-use regulations by referendum made enforce through the states courts, will enable "the majority of farmers in any community to exercise a thoroughly democratic control over local land use in the interest of the community as a whole."

DR. ARUNDEL ONLY VETERINARIAN IN STATE TO RECEIVE TRAINING AT FORT BENNING

It was learned here this week that Dr. Hugh F. Arundel was the only Veterinarian in the state to be designed to receive training at Fort Benning, the largest infantry school in the world.

While at Fort Benning, Dr. Arundel, in specializing in surgery and lameness, treated an average of 75 horses, polo ponies and mules. He operated on an average of 25 dogs and did considerable research work on heart worms in dogs.

He also received training in dairy inspection from the standpoint of health of the cattle and the sanitation of dairies and their proper pasturization of milk, the cream milk for ice cream and sanitation of bottling plants.

Further work carried him into the grading and inspection of fresh and smoked meats, fish, butter, cheese, eggs, poultry and all canned meats, fruits and vegetables.

FARMERS ARE URGED TO GIN DRY COTTON

Recently heavy rains in many sections of this state this week prompted County Agent Byron Dyer to urge Bulloch county farmers to be sure that insofar as possible their cotton is dry and clean before taking it to the gin.

"The value of cotton," the County Agent said, "can be greatly decreased through improper ginning. A smooth job of ginning cannot be accomplished when the cotton is taken to the gin green, wet or trashy. 'Most of the gins in Georgia are in fairly good condition this season but regardless of the equipment a gin cannot do a good job on wet or trashy cotton. The value of cotton can be decreased as much as $4.50 a bale by improper ginning. Cotton must be dry and clean when it goes to the gin in order to get a premium bale."

In the absence of cotton houses storing seed cotton, the limited amount of suitable storage space in farm buildings may make it necessary for some farmers to make use of a part of their dwelling temporarily, as is the custom with many farmers with their tobacco.

When there is a sufficient amount of cotton stored in the gin, cotton should be spread and stirred until it is thoroughly dry. If wet cotton is packed up for a long period, it is apt to heat and damage; therefore, if wet cotton is put in a large pile, it should be examined constantly to make sure it is not heating, and if it should heat, it should be kept stirred.

WOODARD HOOKS, FORMER PORTER AT BANK RETURNS FOR HIS 36TH BIRTHDAY

It will be of interest to a great many people in the county and especially to the colored residents, to learn that Woodard Hooks, son of Louisa Lewis, is visiting his mother in celebration of his thirty-sixth birthday.

Woodard will be remembered as the porter at the Bank of Statesboro more than thirteen years ago. He left Statesboro and spent three years in Miami in the grocery business, and from there went to Jamaica, N. Y., where he became connected with a Dodge auto dealer. He has been and is still working with this same auto dealer as a demonstrator and salesman.

While here Hooks has called on a number of his white friends, and spends some time recalling pleasant memories of his Bulloch county days. He expresses his desire to return to Statesboro to live, stating that he likes it better than any place in the world. In his comparing it with three years ago when he last visited here he stated, "there is just no comparison. The town don't look like itself, it's growing so."

Hooks will return to New York Sunday.

MOVIE PREVUES

CHICKEN CORN STALK

14 FEET 3 INCHES HIGH
Mrs. J. L. Wilson and Miss Alva Wilson brought into Rackley's Feed and Seed Store a stalk of chicken corn which measured 14 feet and 3 inches high.

It was learned that more than twenty bushels of seed were gathered from the patch. The cornstalk is similar in appearance to a stalk of China cane and produces a fine brand of chicken feed.

Habits of the Woodpecker

The red-headed woodpecker feeds almost exclusively of insects and grubs burrowed in wood, and chisels out homes in trees and poles. Nature is bountiful in equipping woodpeckers. Their beaks are hard as steel, keen as razors. They have long toes to grip precarious surfaces. Their tails are spiked for support, as well as balance. Even their tongues are cylindrical, pointed and barbed, so they can scrape food from small holes. Generally farmers are down on the red-headed species. It sometimes augments its insect diet with eggs, from corn ears growing in fields, brains of young fowl, which it scoops out after splitting the unfortunate chick's head.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

This item which appeared in a New Orleans Tribune of recent date will be of interest to friends of Buster B. Baker of this city. Mr. Baker has been living in Statesboro for fourteen months and resides with Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Renfro. Mr. Baker's mother is pleasantly remembered by those who met her this summer when she visited her son, at which time she stayed at the Brooks Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. Canutele announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Lois, to Buster B. Baker, now of Statesboro; Georgia, but formerly of Slidell, La.

Miss Canutele attended Mississippi College and Louisiana State University, where she was a member of the Alpha Chi Omega society and also a company sponsor of one of the military units and a popular member of the student body.

"Mr. Baker is associated with the Louisiana Coffee Company and is the son of Mrs. K. A. Baker and the late K. A. Baker.

"Both Miss Canutele and Mr. Baker were graduated from the local high school and enjoy a large circle of friends here and elsewhere in the state where their families are well known.

"The wedding will take place in late December."

The Kola Nut

The Kola nut is the brown bitter nut of an African tree cultivated in the West Indies and Brazil. It contains a large proportion of caffeine and some theobromine. The nut is about the size of a chestnut and is chewed as a condiment and stimulant, and the extract is used as a tonic drink.

What Is A Trifle

A loose thread, a lost minute, a penny more or less? Any of these things may lead to unexpected but important consequences.

Just how important is the penny? The ads in this paper give you a good illustration.

The pennies you save, multiplied by the minutes you gain, will become savings that mount into the dollars. These are trifles worth while.

FEATURES OF COTTON LOAN ARE EXPLAINED

Loans will bear interest of 4 per cent and mature July 31, next. Cotton must be stored in warehouses approved by the Commodity Credit Corporation to be eligible for loans. Loans, it was announced, will be available "as soon as necessary arrangements can be completed," but not later than September 15.

The Commodity Credit Corporation has arranged to borrow $150,000,000 from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to finance the loan program. Congress authorized Wallace to use $100,000,000 for a cotton price adjustment payment program for the 1937 crop.

Under proof of compliance with a 1938 agricultural program, Wallace announced, cotton producers who sell cotton from the 1937 crop prior to July 1 next will be paid the difference between 12 cents a pound and the average price of 7-8 inch middling cotton on the 10 spot markets on the day of sale. But the subsidy is not to exceed 3 cents a pound. As in 1935, payment will be limited to 65 percent of the grower's base production.

If the subsidy payments on 65 percent of the 1937 base production do not equal the $100,000,000 appropriation for this purpose, payments will be made on a larger production of the base production, Wallace said.

The secretary said that since adjustments will be related to the price of cotton on the date of sale, producers must sell before next July 1, and should retain original sales receipts on all cotton sold from this year's crop pending announcement of detailed regulations.

The 9-cent maximum loan is in line with Wallace's previously announced views. Southern congressmen had urged 10-cent loans, with subsidy payments to assure producers 12 cents on this year's crop.

Labrador Once Unknown

Except for Leif Ericson's wanderings from Greenland down its coast, Labrador was an unknown hinterland until well on into the nineteenth century. Traders, Jesuit missionaries and the Oblate Fathers, coureurs de bois, Hudson's Bay factors, traveled in Labrador at various times; but it remained for explorers like John McLean (1849), Father Lacrosse (1875), R. Holmes (1887), Cary and Cole (1891), Bryant and Keniston, Dr. Low (1896), to discover the vast, rich area surrounding Grand Falls, 250 miles above Hamilton tide water.

TRIMBLE DISCUSSES STATE'S RESOURCES

By LEE S. TRIMBLE, Macon
On occasion we listen to orators recite the glories of Georgia, the state we all love. Its scenery, varied climates, wealth of natural resources, water power, and glorious past; all these fine assets can be so marshalled as to stir the pride of citizenship and possession.

For famous Georgians it is not necessary to rely only upon the distant past. In the fields of literature, sports, business, and scholarship there are Georgians of today that rank with the first in the nation.

But there is another side that the clear thinker cannot ignore which will temper the enthusiasm, leaving the sober reflection that there is yet a big job to be done to bring Georgia into her rightful place as a progressive, prosperous state.

Last year a book called "A Preface to Peasantry" by Dr. Arthur Raper, was published which deals with the farm tenant question in a brutally frank manner. And with all the things to choose from he based his findings on conditions in two Georgia counties. Two years ago Stuart Chase wrote, "Rich Land, Poor Land" which discusses the problems of soil erosion and wastage of natural resources. For his horrible example in soil erosion he cited a Georgia county. Both these books have had national circulation. Robert Burns' book and play, "I am a Futile Frow" from a Georgia Chalmers and Erskine Caldwell's "Tobacco Road" have been read and seen by thousands. These are four instances where Georgia has received adverse publicity on a broad scale, doing the state immeasurable harm. Ho many prospective visitors, new settlers, and new industries Georgia has thereby lost, can never be known!

What to do about it? One thing, definitely. Set to work to remedy the conditions that prompted these efforts. What is everybody's business may be nobody's business, but this kind of thing is costing you money whether or not, the loss is felt.

Lead in Pencil Is Graphite

The black substance which makes the mark when we write is graphite, a form of carbon. There are various kinds of graphite, with varying degrees of hardness. Another wrong idea about pencils is the belief that they are made of a single piece of wood with a hole in the center. Pencils are made of two pieces of wood glued together.

Miss Evelyn Mathews Becomes Bride Of Mr. Robert Pound

At a lovely home ceremony taking place Friday evening at 8 o'clock, Miss Evelyn Mathews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Mathews, became the bride of Mr. Robert Pound, Rev. C. M. Coleson, pastor of the Baptist church, performed the impressive ring ceremony.

The bride and groom were dressed in the presence of a large assembly of friends and relatives. The bride wore a gown of white tulle and lace, and the groom wore a tuxedo. The ceremony was held in the living room before an improvised altar.

The bride and groom were accompanied by their parents and other relatives. The ceremony was a simple and beautiful affair, and the bride and groom were both very happy.

all's fair

Just browsing 'round. Up early and to the Marvin Pittman's where Jane was intrigued with the lovely gifts Catherine has received. First, and of paramount importance in these post-depression days, was a warranty deed bestowing upon said Catherine a house and lot. That was of course from Dad and Mother Pittman. Then, interesting because of its intrinsic value accruing through the years were two handwoven linen luncheon sets handed down for generations in the Watkins family. The setters were undimmed and the sheer thru cellophane wrapping would have shamed our modern lines. Overheard at Evelyn's wedding, "Gee I feel like I'm getting married, that's the same music we had at our wedding." A young man whose expression on his face indicated incredulity, tinged with actual distress: "You mean the lady didn't see that we had fixed up?" The car was one belonging to John Heath Pond supposedly the one to be used by Bob and Evelyn on their wedding trip. "fixed up" had reference to the Just Married signs and the cows tied to it.

After a brief business session an interesting program was presented. Mrs. D. L. Deal, head of the English department of the school, gave an illuminating address on "Fellowship." Miss Eleanor Meese, the new expression teacher, delighted the audience with readings. She also gave a vocal selection entitled, "Coming Home." Those numbers were especially enjoyed. Sherbert and sandwiches were served. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Roger Holland, Mrs. J. B. Johnson, Mrs. Inman Foy, Mrs. Harvey D. Brannen, and Miss Viola Parry.

MISS CATHERINE PITTMAN WEDS MR. HAROLD WATKINS

Of wide spread interest, due to the prominence of both families, is the marriage of Miss Catherine Ellen Pittman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. S. Pittman, to George Harold Watkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Watkins, of Glendale, Calif. and Fargo, N. D., which was solemnized on Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the home of the bride on North Main street. Rev. G. N. Rainey read the marriage vows.

Miss Aline Whiteside played a program of nuptial music on the organ preceding and during the speaking of the vows. The selection included "At Dawning", "Evening Star", and selections from Tchaikovsky's Fifth Symphony.

The ushers were Marvin Pittman, Jr., brother of the bride, and Campbell Perry Monroe Wilson.

The reception room and dining room were decorated in pink and green. Green and white prevailed in the living room where the improvised altar was arranged before the mantel at one end of the spacious room. The mantel was basked with maiden hair fern, with a tall crystal vase in the center filled with white gladioli forming a peak which accentuated the pyramid effect attained by the use of graduated standards banked with maiden hair ferns and five branched candelabra on each side holding cathedral candles. Silver baskets filled with white aster and white double altheas and ferns tied with tulle bows formed the base of the pyramid and artistically outlined the space for the bride party.

The bride had as her maid of honor, Miss Elizabeth Bilger of Hindale, Ill. Her gown was of beige lace posed over pale pink. The neck line was square and finished with delicate blue bands of gros grain ribbon, with a cluster of pink roses. She carried a colonial bouquet of light pink tea roses bordered with delphiniums.

The bride came down the stairs alone and was met by her father, who gave her in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Bradford Wiles, of Chicago. Her brunette

FARM TO FARM

By Byron Dyer

Dan R. Thompson says that cattle very definitely has a place in the farming program. The better blooded cattle is the more definite the place in the farming program. Mr. Thompson has a good herd of Red Pole cattle and is crossing them with purebred Herefords.

Horace Hagin takes pride in raising the best hogs in the community. He has a Spotted Poland China hogs that are thrifty and always in good growing condition. Hagin makes it possible for him to market finished hogs when they are about seven to eight months old. His herd of beef cattle is also getting established.

Here is an idea that is worth trying at this time of the year. Edwin Banks says that he has found a use for discarded bicycle tires. Throw a tire over the hips of a cow, letting it hang down over the tail of the animal. This prevents her from switching while you milk.

J. L. Lamb finds that share-croppers can practice a balanced farm program as well as land owners. Mr. Lamb never asks his landlord to furnish him during the year. When asked about how he managed he said he raised his own cattle and hogs for market along with cotton, enabling him to have a more stable system of farming and to market every thing he grew.

In just a few days farmers in the Stillson and Ivanhoe communities will have a supply of purebred pigs. John W. Davis, Montrose Graham, M. P. Martin Jr., and Clifford Martin are seeing to that. These 4-H club boys each have a fair sized herd started from exceptionally good lines of hogs and will soon be selling the best of pigs to their neighbors.

Bulloch 4-H club boys are getting their steers lined up now for the spring shows and sales. One carload of steers was delivered to them this week. To date 37 clubsters have a total of 65 steers on feed for next spring.

The price of feeder steers is about prohibitive this fall but these clubsters feel that they can feed them for a little more than half of what it cost last winter. They planted their feed in the spring to feed this cattle and expect to market it thru the lot delivered this week averaged 541 pounds per head, which means they should weigh around 1,000 pounds when sold.

Although the number of beef cattle has more than doubled in Georgia since 1929 ample supply of smooth feeders is still not available. Cattle are being shipped to these clubsters from the western ranges.

The normal supply of cattle in the United States has not been reached since the heavy decrease during drought years. This fact alone with the fact that Georgia now only produces about 35 to 40 percent of the beef consumed in the states indicates that these clubsters are still on sound basis with their calf projects. They hope to purchase feeder steers locally in the near future. The movement of packers to Georgia insures a stable market for finished cattle.

Since the one of the most expensive items in the wardrobe and must stand wear in all kinds of weather, usually for three or four years, checking on quality points before buying is a practice that careful buyers wish to follow. Important points to look for in buying a coat are the cut, seams, and pressing. These relate to workmanship. Other points are the fabric used, the lining and the interlining.

Each part of the coat should be cut with the grain of the material, according to this list, or it will soon get out of shape.

Coats should be pressed with every step in the making.

Good quality coats have carefully matched seams stitched with firm thread in close, even stitches. Armholes, seams, and front edges are reinforced with narrow preshrunk tape to prevent stretching and possible tears.

The front facing is backed back accurately but invisible to the inside of the coat to keep a straight front edge that will not roll.

Linings of good quality coats are fitted in and lining seams are matched and tacked to corresponding seams in the coat. Poor quality coats have linings made separately and put in the coat all in one piece. Another point to look for in the lining is a full length pleat all the way down the back. This allows for "give" in wearing and keeps the lining from pulling. Further information is contain-

Grape Products
Grape Juice, No. 1. Crush clean, ripe grapes by hand in a cloth sack. Strain juice through flannel and in sterilized bottles or jars. Place these in a water bath and heat until the juice reaches a temperature just below boiling point. Seal at once and store.

Grape Juice, No. 2. Put one cup of grapes in a quart jar add 1-2 cup of sugar and fill jar with boiling water. Process in water bath 20 minutes.

Grape Marmalade. Select grapes—about 1-2 of which are under-ripe. Wash and stem fruit. Separate the skins from pulp. Cook pulps for 10 minutes and press through a sieve to remove seeds. Add 3-4 c. of water for each quart of skins and boil until tender. Mix pulp and skins and measure. Use 1 lb. of sugar for each quart of the mixture and cook until it reaches the jelly test. Pour into sterilized jars and process pints 20 minutes and quarts 30 minutes.

Grape Minicrust. Pulp grapes and add 1 c. of water to each quart of pulp. Boil until tender and eliminate seed. Run hulls through food chopper and cook until soft. Mix pulp, juice and hulls. To each quart of mixture add one lemon, 2 cups sugar, 2 tsp. cinnamon, 2 tsp. nutmeg. Boil until it has a thick consistency. Put into sterilized jars and simmer pints for 30 minutes.

Grape Butter. Pulp ripe grapes—discard hulls. Heat pulps and remove seed. For each lb. of fresh fruit add 1-2 lb. sugar. Cook the mixture until jelly like, stirring repeatedly. If desired ground nut meats may be added 5 min. before removing from the stove. Pack and process 30 minutes.

Grape Conserve. Prepare grapes pulp for minicrust. To every 33 lbs. of mixture of hulls and pulp add 1 scant lb. of sugar, the meaty part of two oranges. Cook this mixture for about an hour then add 1-2 lb. of ground nut meats. Boil again for 5 minutes and pack in jars and process 15 min.

FORD DEALERS TO CLEAR LOTS OF USED CARS

AND TRUCKS
Ford dealers throughout the United States during September will cooperate with the Ford Motor Company in a second annual nationwide used car and truck clearance sale, marking a new trend in automotive merchandising, it was announced today.

Ford Motor Company is aiding the sale with an extensive newspaper and advertising campaign.

Ford dealers throughout the country report they are in strategic position for such a sale. Widespread acceptance of the 1937 Ford V-8 has built up dealer stocks with an unusually wide assortment of used cars and trucks of all makes and models.

Price revisions have been made by many dealers, making a used car or truck purchase during this sale an advantageous one for the buyer.

Renewed and guaranteed used cars will figure prominently in the national sale, it was explained. Ford dealers displaying the R & G emblem renew used cars in accordance with rigid specifications laid down by the factory and issue a written, money-back guarantee to the buyer. In preparation for the approaching clearance sale, dealers have extended their participation in the R & G procedure.

AMATEUR NIGHT ANNOUNCED
Mr. Hal Macon announced this week that at an early date the Georgia Theatre will have another amateur night. Mr. Macon urges every person who is able to make music on any kind of instrument, be it a jews harp or a bull fiddle, matters not. All who have any talent of any sort are eligible to enter and are urged to do so.

Fortunate are the communities where a highway is closed for paving with concrete. Temporary inconvenience is quickly turned into lasting satisfaction.

This means the end of spring break-ups—floods, mud and ruts. Seasonal load restrictions, dust and the inconvenience of constant road tinkering can be forgotten.

Concrete stands up under all legal loads in all weather. It permits speed with safety. It cuts driving costs to motorists. It reduces road maintenance costs.

Brunswick, Georgia Woman Makes Most Interesting Statement

TELLS OF TRYING 'NEARLY EVERYTHING UNDER THE SUN WITHOUT GETTING RELIEF UNTIL SHE TRIED POW-O-LIN. THE NEW MEDICINE SO MANY GEORGIA PEOPLE RECOMMEND!

If you had suffered for years and years—if you had tried every medicine you ever heard of and finally found a medicine that brought blessed relief, you'd be thankful enough to say so, wouldn't you? Well, that's just what Mrs. Minnie Bennett, 1008 1/2 Street, Brunswick, Ga., has done. Mrs. Bennett says: "Certain, I am grateful for having tried POW-O-LIN and thankful too, for the prompt relief it brought me. I have been a sufferer for a long time from gas and bloating after eating. Foods would lie in my stomach like a rock and hot sour food would come up in my mouth when I would lie down and nearly choke me. I was nervous, bilious and constipated. I tried many medicines but none of them brought me relief until I bought a bottle of POW-O-LIN. It is the most remarkable medicine I have ever used. It has relieved me of all my troubles. I can now eat what I want to without fear of suffering for hours afterwards."

I have no more nervous headaches, and I sleep well and feel refreshed when I arise in the morning. I am certainly not ashamed to say a good word for POW-O-LIN and I believe all who may suffer as I did can have the same relief that came to me if they will try this fine medicine." POW-O-LIN is sold, recommended and guaranteed by COLLEGE PHARMACY. (Adv.)

Burton Ferry Route Shows Progress Is Being Made

BULLOCH SECTION OF HIGHWAY TO DOVER IS NOW COMPLETED

ROAD COMPLETED FROM THE CITY LIMITS OF STATESBORO TO OLD RIVER ROAD; WORK TO BEGIN ON SCREVEN SIDE OF RIVER SOON.

Progress is being made on the Burton Ferry Road in many respects, it was learned this week from F. W. Hodges, chairman of the Bulloch County Commissioners. It is believed work will begin immediately on the road from Dover to Sylvania.

The Bulloch section of the Burton Ferry route from Dover to Statesboro has been completed for some time. Very few changes will be made on the present roadbed and no right-of-way will have to be changed. A new concrete bridge will be constructed, however, at Mill Creek. The road has been completed from the city limits of Statesboro to the Old River Road. At that point the new highway will run straight into the river swamp. It will be necessary, according to Mr. Hodges, to obtain some additional right-of-way in the river swamp.

The most recent news concerning the road is that the Screven county convicts are expected to begin work at an early date on the Screven side from Dover to Sylvania. Screven county was recently awarded a contract for the fill at Briar Creek. However, it developed that the bridge would be a Federal project and the convicts would not be used. This, it is understood, will allow the convicts to begin work on the Sylvania to Dover stretch.

Chairman Hodges also announced that six miles on the Fembroke road, State Route 67, will be completed by September 25 and will be opened to traffic. The new bridge, however, has not been completed and it will be necessary to detour at that point for a month longer.

While work is progressing on these two highways work also continues on the WPA road project west of Statesboro on the Bethlehem road. Recent rains have slowed the work considerably but according to WPA officials this work will continue until finished.

City Court Ends Two-Day Session

JUDGE LEROY COWART PRESIDING. CROWDED SESSION WITH TEN CONVICTIONS AND TEN ACQUITTALS.

After a two day crowded session the City Court of Statesboro adjourned with ten convictions and an equal number of acquittals.

With Judge Leroy Cowart presiding and Solicitor B. H. Ramsey handling the prosecutions for the state, a number of pleas were entered at the opening of court Monday. The following convictions and pleas were recorded: Jim Hall, violator, motor vehicle law, $25.00; Levy Hendley, procuring money on contract for services fraudulently, $45.00 or six months; Euness Maner, stabbing, $75.00 or nine months; Isaac Reese, disturbing divine worship, $30.00 or four months; Henry Walker, larceny from house, $30.00 or three months; Homer Rowell, larceny, six months; Homer Rowell (separate charge) larceny, six months; Fred Newsome, drawing worthless check, bond forfeited; H. B. Polk, larceny from house, $25.00 or three months; J. D. Davis, malicious mischief, $25.00 or four months.

A recessed term of the July term of Bulloch Superior Court will convene here Monday with Judge William Woodrum presiding. It is understood that there is only a few criminal matters to be tried. The first two or three days of the week will be given over to the trial of civil cases.

Cotton Growers Are Urged To Turn In Sales Certificates

Bulloch county farmers that have sold cotton today are urged to turn in at the farm agent's office sales certificates of the sale giving the date of sale, the number of pounds sold and signed by the buyer. Cotton sold in the future should be turned in within 15 days after the sale.

These certificates are necessary to collect the subsidy on the 1937 crop. County Agent Byron Dyer points out that matters will be simplified for the landowners and tenants if each sales certificate clearly shows which tenant produced each lot of cotton sold. Sales certificates on the entire crop of cotton should be submitted. Performance check up in Bulloch county is expected to get underway in the near future. Aerial photographs of the county have been completed and when enlargements of these are received supervisors will immediately check performance on cooperating farms under the 1936 soil conservation program.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT ASSUMES DUTY AT COUNTY HOSPITAL

MISS NAOMI ZITZBAUER SELECTED BY BOARD OF MANAGERS COMES HERE FROM QUITMAN WITH FOURTEEN YEARS EXPERIENCE.

Miss Naomi Zitzbauer assumed the superintendency of the Bulloch County Hospital, Thursday, having been selected by the Board of Managers several weeks ago. Miss Zitzbauer's home is Savannah. She is well qualified to handle the superintendency of the new hospital. She has fourteen years experience and for several years worked with leading doctors of the south in Atlanta. For the past twelve months, Miss Zitzbauer has been superintendent of the county hospital at Quitman and comes to Statesboro highly recommended.

The Board of Managers of the Bulloch County Hospital, A. E. Temple, D. P. Averitt, Jr., Delmas Rushing, J. L. Johnson and Ulmer Knight, have made no announcements concerning the personnel at the hospital but it is understood there will be no changes.

The Bulloch County Hospital is now equipped with all modern hospital furnishings including x-ray equipment, a complete new operating room outfit, all new private room and ward furniture, and office and lobby furniture in keeping with the other hospital furnishings.

Miss Zitzbauer succeeds Miss Evelyn Howard, who resigned several days prior to the naming of the new superintendent.

BULLOCH COUNTY TEACHERS TO APPEAR BEFORE GRAND JURY ON ELLIS HEALTH LAW

ROTARY CLUB HEAR JUDGE SOLOMON OF SAVANNAH

Judge Arthur W. Solomon, past president of the Savannah Rotary Club addressed the Statesboro Rotarians at their regular weekly luncheon meeting Monday.

Judge Solomon described in detail his trip to Nice, France, where he attended the International Rotary Convention held there last June. He illustrated his talk with a group of pictures which he brought from the convention. He praised highly the various clubs he visited in France, England, and Scotland.

Other visitors from Savannah were Gordon C. Carson, president of the Savannah club; Thomas R. Jones, executive vice president of the Savannah Chamber of Commerce; Col. W. E. Wilberding, U. S. A.; Herbert Coons, Arthur B. Levy and Dr. Luther Clary.

Mr. S. W. Lewis, president of the local club complimented members of the local club who have a perfect attendance record since the organization was formed. They are: Dr. J. H. Whiteside, W. W. Woodcock and Charles E. Cone.

NEVILLS BEGINS SERIES OF FARMERS' MEETINGS; BE UNDER G. C. AVERY

A series of farmers' meetings began at Nevills, Thursday night under the supervision of G. C. Avery, vocational instructor, for the benefit of the farmers in this section.

The subjects for discussion at these meetings will be winter crop and benefit payment plans in connection with the government farm program.

The next meeting is announced for Tuesday night, September 21 at 8 o'clock. The series consists of five meetings to be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays of each week unless otherwise announced.

MEETING OF MUSIC CLUB ANNOUNCED FOR SEPT. 21

TOP HOGS SELL AT $11.75 A HUNDRED CATTLE ALSO UP

BEST PRICES OF THE YEAR PREVAILED ON LOCAL LIVESTOCK MARKET THIS WEEK. The best prices of the year prevailed on the local markets here this week with top hogs reaching $11.75 a hundred, pigs higher than they have been in over a year and cattle up from 50c to 75c a hundred higher.

The Bulloch Stock Yards at their sales Tuesday report top hogs sold $1.00 higher than they did a week ago, with one lot selling for $10.85. Feeder pigs were also higher, and barbone pigs brought 1-2 cents to 10-12 cents a pound, according to quality. Extra good feeders weighing ninety pounds sold for as high as $12.10 a hundred pounds. There was a good demand for feeder yearlings and the cattle market was much stronger.

The Statesboro Livestock Commission sold 650 hogs and 120 cattle at their sale Wednesday. F. C. Parker and Son report the best prices this year with top hogs selling for $11.75 a hundred pounds and the price on pigs the strongest since August a year ago. There were many strong buyers on the market with M. H. Hogan representing Swift and Company and Frank Upchurch of Atlanta doing spirited competitive bidding on big hogs.

College opens for fall term showing large enrollment

COLLEGE OPENS FOR FALL TERM SHOWING LARGE ENROLLMENT

FRESHMEN REPORT TODAY FOR FIVE DAY ORIENTATION PERIOD. PRESIDENT PITTMAN TO WELCOME THEM FOLLOWING PICNIC.

With everything filled to capacity, but not overcrowded according to President Marvin S. Pittman, the South Georgia Teachers College opened the fall term of the 1937-38 session here today.

Freshmen reported at the college today for a five day orientation period. The program today begins with a picnic dinner in the out-door theatre. Following the picnic the new students will be welcomed by President Pittman on behalf of the faculty. Willard Cartee, president of the Student Council will also extend a welcome and explain the principles of student government. Miss Ruth Pound of Swainsboro, president of the Y. M. C. A. will address the young ladies of the freshmen class and David Proctor, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. will speak to the boys. Heymans Oliver, a student, will make a talk on campus play activities.

Tomorrow evening (Saturday) the new students will be entertained with a reception in the Alumni Hall. All during the five days the newcomers will be given instructions and information that will help them throughout the college year. Sunday morning the churches of Statesboro will extend a welcome to the students and Sunday evening the first Vesper service of the year will be held in the college auditorium. Freshmen will register Monday, upperclassmen will register Tuesday, and classes will begin Wednesday of next week.

President Pittman stated this week that he did not expect a large overflow, but last fall's enrollment of 595 students, will be increased this fall. The college will accommodate more students on the campus this fall than ever before, since more space has been provided and the demand for rooms on the campus grows each year.

All dormitories on the campus have been put in shape for the opening. The first floor of West Hall has been completely remodeled, new plastering and painting has been done in East Hall and Anderson Hall has been practically rebuilt inside.

Fourteen new names appear on the 1937-38 faculty list and the majority are additions.

Livestock Near Top In Farm Program In Bulloch County

CENSUS BUREAU SHOWS LESS COTTON GINNED

A report of the Census Bureau of the Department of Commerce showed this week that 6,971 bales of cotton were ginned in Bulloch year compared with 8,678 bales during the same period last year.

The report for the state shows that more cotton has been ginned this year for the period prior to September 1, than last year. The report shows 218,614 bales were ginned in Georgia prior to September 1 this year compared with 194,455 bales ginned during the same period last year.

The state extension service says that the yield of cotton per acre for the state would probably be fourth best in the history of the state. Indications are the average yield will be 340 pounds to the acre. The highest average yield was recorded in 1911 with 267 lint pounds to the acre.

BULLOCH 4-H BOYS ARE FATTENING STEERS

Bulloch county 4-H club boys are getting their steers lined up for the spring shows and sales. One carload of steers has already been delivered to them. About thirty-seven clubsters have sixty-five steers on feed for next spring. The steers that have been delivered average 541 pounds per head, which means they should weigh about 1,000 pounds when sold.

The price of feeder steers is about prohibitive this fall, but the clubsters feel they can feed them for half what it cost last winter. They planted corn in the spring to feed the cattle.

Although the number of beef cattle has more than doubled in Georgia since 1929, an ample supply of smooth feeders is still not available. Cattle are being shipped to the Bulloch clubsters from the Western ranges, but they hope to purchase feeder steers locally in the near future.

The movement of packers to Georgia insures a stable market for finished cattle.

Coach Johnson's Boys To Play 11 Games This Year

The 1937 edition of the Statesboro High School football team left early today to play Spalding High of Griffin, Georgia. The game between the Blue Devils and Spalding High will be played under lights at the Griffin field. Coach B. A. Johnson is taking around twenty men with him. Spalding High has one of the best prep teams in North Georgia and unless a miracle happens the Blue Devils are going a long way to get a licking, but there is always a chance for that miracle.

The 1937 schedule for the teams has been completed with two games pending. The schedule totals eleven games with six of them to be played at home and the remaining five to be played away from home. Three new foes are on the list and one old rival, Claxton High.

Sept. 17—Spalding High, Griffin, Ga.
Sept. 24—Vidalia High, Vidalia, Ga.
Oct. 1—Waynesboro High (Pending) here.
Oct. 8—Bradwell Institute (Hinesville) here.
Oct. 15—Glennville High, here.
Oct. 22—Swainsboro High, (pending) here.
Oct. 29—Millen High, Millen, Ga.
Nov. 5—Sylvania High, here.
Nov. 11—Claxton High—Armistice Day, here.
Nov. 19—Emanuel County Institute, Graymont, Ga.
Nov. 25—Reidsville High—Thanksgiving Morning, here.

The prospects for the coming season are not so very good. The Blue Devils are very weak in several spots and Coach Johnson is pretty worried as to the chances for a successful season for his boys. Johnson is very doubtful as to the strength of the team.

TAKES A PERMANENT PLACE AS A MONEY CROP FOR FARMERS

PRACTICALLY ALL FARMERS, LANDOWNERS, SHARE - CROPPERS AND CASH TENANTS USE HOGS AND CATTLE IN FARMING PROGRAM.

Livestock has taken a permanent place in the farming program of Bulloch county in recent years until today livestock farming ranks close to the top as a money crop for farmers.

There are more ways than one to make livestock profitable in the farming program, according to some Bulloch county farmers. Practically all farmers, including landowners, sharecroppers, and cash tenants use hogs in their farming program and interplant all their corn with legumes, such as peanuts, velvet beans, or soy beans, or a combination of these. Peanuts and velvet beans, however, are the most universally used in Bulloch county.

One of Georgia's Master Farmers of 1936, C. B. Gay, thinks the best method is to interplant hogs and poultry in the cotton farming program and thereby take care of the soil maintenance and at the same time get some income from your extra efforts. Mr. Gay has a herd of Herford cattle that is three-quarters or better in beef blood, started from just range cattle and bred up over seven years with a purebred bull. The forty steers he raises each year are fed out and when shown will compete successfully with purchased cattle and then they are sold on a special market that commands a premium. The 125 hogs and 300 hens also play a part in the farm income as well as serve as a market for some feeds that otherwise would not be marketed.

A. J. Trappell says that the best way to make money on cattle is to run them through the field and sell them. He is of the opinion that hogs and cattle have a place in the farming program even for cash tenants. Mr. Trappell keeps about 100 head of Herford cattle bred up from a range with a purebred bull and some 300 head of hogs. The hogs are handled a little different from the cattle. They are finished and often sold in car lots, with every hog carrying the Hampshire tag and weighing about the same number of pounds.

J. C. Hines To Play Ball With Newark

FORMER TEACHERS COLLEGE FOOTBALL AND BASEBALL STAR BEING GIVEN CHANCE IN MAJOR BASEBALL UNDER N. Y. YANKEES CONTRACT.

It was learned here this week that J. C. Hines, former Teachers College football and baseball star will be given his chance in AA baseball with the Newark, N. J. team. Hines will report in Newark for Spring practice upon notice.

While at the Teachers College Hines was an outstanding athlete with a successful football and baseball career. In 1934 he led the team with a batting average of .394.

In 1936 Hines played third base with Savannah in the Sally League and was traded to Augusta. From Augusta he was sent to Palatka, Fla., and was recalled to Augusta this last spring. While in Palatka he batted an average of .323 and finished the season in Augusta hitting .278. With Hines going from Augusta to Newark, N. J., the New York Yankees are exercising its right to pick players from the Augusta team and placing them with their affiliated teams. Newark is an AA ball team. Hines, together with three other players being sent to Newark, Hines is the only infielder being picked from the Augusta team, the others all being pitchers.
